

Texas A&M's Harris County Resiliency Workshop

A collaborative workshop for local officials and stakeholders using hands-on visioning technology and interactive mapping to discuss future growth and disaster risk.

Houston, TX

Thursday, February 16, 2017

11:00 AM – 4:00 PM

Hosted at the Houston TranStar Building
Training Room 120 B
6922 Katy Road
Houston, TX 77024

Free Drinks, Coffee and Snacks!

Lunch can be purchased for $10.

RSVP by 2/13 with Walter M Peacock at wmpeacock@tamu.edu or call if you have any questions, 979-450-2183

Space is limited!

Explore Future Growth Scenarios With New Coastal Flood Data

Officials from FEMA, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, the Texas Department of Emergency Management, and the Texas Department of Insurance will also discuss how they can support resiliency efforts in your community.

FEMA